

features

14 The Reasoning behind Renovations

Norwich, Vt., architect Andrew Garthwaite suspects the decision to renovate or add on is a more complex process than a cold assessment of dollars and cents. “It’s more like a commitment to a particular place,” he says. By Diane Taylor

18 Planning for Remodeling

You like your neighborhood. You have a great commute. Your kids are in good schools. You cringe, however, when you examine your house. You imagine what your house would be, if only... Fortunately, “if only” is what remodeling is all about. By Everett Pollard, Northcape Design

Tom McNeill

24 Treasure Hunting at Vermont Salvage

Jesse LaBombard defines Vermont Salvage as a wholesale/retail store dealing in architectural antiques. “I guess you could say that’s the fancy term for a high-end junk store,” he jokes. By Kim J. Gifford

Jim Block

departments

4 At Home

Products and people you'll want to know, such as Delsie Hoyt of Kingdom Moon Rugs, woodturner Russell Barnes, and glass etching by Lyon Creative Works in Canaan, N.H. By Laura Jean Whitcomb, Kate Bradley and Andi Diehn

31 How-to Guest Column What's New in Flooring

It's amazing how something so simple can transform a room. Hardwood flooring can make a living room look bigger. Carpet can make a bedroom feel cozier. Three local companies offer their thoughts on what's new in flooring in 2011.

36 How-to Guest Column Ice Is Nice — But Not on Your Roof

It's never too early to start planning ahead for winter. If you've had trouble with ice in the past, here's some information on how to keep your roof ice-free and your home leak-free. By Dave Swanson, It Takes Two, LLC

38 Artist Profile Iron Man

Etna, N.H., blacksmith and artist Ron Farr creates unique ironwork. Bring your design, and he'll make it. By David A. Tyler

"Moon Rise"
by Delsie Hoyt

Jon Gilbert Fox

On the Cover

Knott residence on Lake Sunapee, N.H.

Photography by Roger Wade
Renovation and addition by Northcape Design, Sunapee, N.H.